NEGROES WILL MAN NEW TUSKEGEE HOSPITAL

Maze Of Conflict Surrounds "Girl Bandit's" Story

LIVED AS MAN AND WIFE AT THE SAME TIME, POLICE LEARN

Fred Thompson Great Enigma As Ever To Authorities
ADMITS BEING NARCOTIC ADICT
Will Dress Prisoner In Man's Clothes For Identification

(Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 21.—Fred G.

Thompson, believed to be the "girl bandit," who slew Richard C. Tesmer, became a still greater enigma today when police questioning revealed that for years he played the role of husband to a woman and at the same time he was passing for the wife of a man.

The suspect is said to have admitted that he had been the lawful husband of Marie Clarke for two years, known to "her neighbors" as Mrs. Frances Carrick, a talented singer and industrious housewife.

Thompson has lived for thirteen years with Frank Carrick, a mechanic, in the same building in which he and his wife maintained an apartment.

Amid the maze of conflicting statements made by the three, came the assertion from the woman that Carrick married Thompson in order that he would be exempted from military service because of a dependent wife.

Thompson also was said to have admitted that he was a narcotic addict.

Meanwhile the police are searching for another man as the companion of the bandit, attired in woman's clothes who held up Tesmer and his wife on the night of June 5 and shot the former after relieving him of a few valuables.

Thompson vigorously protested innocence, although two alibis which he presented have been shattered by investigation.

The police plan later today to dress him as a man and take him again before Mrs. Tesmer. The widow has only seen the suspect in feminine attire and that time she positively identified him as the slayer. Neither she nor the authorities knew then that Thompson was a man.

Thompson faced his interrogators today, still clad in the black gown, silk stockings and high heeled slippers he wore at the time of his arrest. His appearance was made incongruous by the two day's growth of beard which had penetrated the layers of powder and rouge on his face.

At times his male personality predominated. Again a sudden gust of tears would accompany an unmistakable feminine voice and his appearance would assume that of a woman. Often he gazed into his vanity case and would twist a dainty lace handkerchief in strictly feminine fashion.

WELLS HONOR GUEST OF KIWANIS TODAY

The Morgan Kiwanis club held its noon day luncheon at the Y. M. C. today and had as guest of honor, J. Ogden Wells, president of the Cooper-Wells Company, who is in the Twin Cities for a few days in connection with the opening of his new mill here Saturday.

The luncheon was served by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church of Decatur and was greatly enjoyed.

Perhaps for the last time the club met in the west room of the association building, for according to Secretary Randolph, the plan now is to hold the future meetings of the club in the east room of the association.

MRS. BUZZI PUT ON TRIAL FOR SCHNEIDER MURDER

Mrs. Anna Buzzzi.

Here is a late photograph of Mrs. Anna Buzzzi, who has been placed on trial in New York City on the charge of murdering Frederick Schneider, millionaire Bronx contractor, with whom she had been living for several years. Schneider was mysteriously shot to death in his automobile on a lonely road and a woman was seen running away.

MASONIC OFFICERS WILL VISIT CHAPTER

Jacob Bley, of Demopolis, grand master of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Alabama; Fred Wall of Athens, grand master of the second veil of the Grand Chapter of Alabama, will be guests of Decatur Chapter No. 38, Royal Arch Masons Friday night at the annual meeting and the Royal Arch Degree will be conferred, beginning at 5 p. m. following which refreshments will be served by the ladies of the Eastern Star and election of officers and presentation of past high priest jewels to all living past high priests of Decatur chapter will occur.

This being the first occasion in Decatur chapter's history with so many grand lodge officers present, a large crowd is expected to be on hand.

The local chapter probably is the only one in the state which will have presented all of its past high priests with jewels and will set quite a precedent for other chapters to follow.

JUMPS TO SAFETY; TRAIN HITS WAGON

One of the spryest young men in the Twin Cities is Aubrey Adams of Sibley and Sandlin. He established this fact Tuesday afternoon, when without assistance, he jumped to safety from his delivery wagon as a northbound Louisville & Nashville freight swiped off the left rear wheel of his vehicle.

Mr. Adams came to make his now famous jump because, as he drove over the Moulton street crossing near the Home Oil Mill, two trains, one a passenger, southbound, and one a freight, northbound, disputed his right of way. Young Adams "beat" the passenger train all right, but the freight was not so easy; and when the youth saw the northbound great mogul which pulled the freight train was about to "get" him up bounced the youthful driver and lighted in a place of absolute safety.

HOME ON FURLOUGH

Boyd Chasteen, Hartselle boy, now on furlough from the United States Navy, was here today on his way to Hartselle where he will spend ten days with friends and relatives. Mr. Chasteen is from the Hampton Roads, Va., naval station. He stated this morning he had been in the service for six months and liked it fine.

CELEBRATION WILL BE HELD AT THE 'Y'

Event Will Mark End Of Improvements Now Being Made

ROAD OFFICIALS TO BE PRESENT

Association's Building Overhauled From Top To Bottom

A two days' celebration will be held at the Louisville & Nashville Y. M. C. A. here in the course of a few weeks on account of the rehabilitated association building, which work is now near completion and will make the building new out and out and through and through to all intents and purposes.

The celebration will begin on a Saturday and will continue over Sunday, Executive Secretary C. J. Randolph announced this morning.

Mr. Randolph stated that representatives of President Mayrhofer of the Louisville & Nashville system, were expected and that Superintendent W. E. Smith of Birmingham was expected as one of the speakers on the opening day of the celebration.

Refreshments will be served following a reception which will be given following the address of Mr. Smith and those of other speakers.

On Sunday some outstanding leaders of the Y. M. C. A. movement are expected to make addresses and the meetings to be addressed will be held on the lawn of the association.

This morning sure evidence of the fine shape in which the association building is to be left when all the work now being done is completed, was seen. Paint is being applied in generous and tasteful fashion and most noticeable of all is the work being done on the floor of the large front lobby.

ANOTHER LINER TO TEST DRY RULING

(Associated Press.)

SOUTHAMPTON, England, June 21.—The Cunard liner Berengaria which sailed for New York last Saturday arrived sufficient alcoholic liquor for her return voyage under the same lock and seal as that employed by the White Star liner Olympic, which sailed yesterday. It was learned today.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Plans of the customs authorities for meeting the challenge of the Cunard line were concealed behind a closed drawn curtain of silence today.

A high official, who refused to be quoted, said his idea was that the liquor should be seized, but that "no body could tell what would happen in the next prohibition mix-up."

"In my opinion," said this official, "the only proper thing to do is to search the Berengaria and seize any liquor found aboard which is not required for medical purposes."

"I do not know whether the state department has taken cognizance of the situation and recommended some other course in the interest of international comity."

"It seems to me that a much better place to consider international comity is in connection with the fleet of 20 rum runners of foreign registry which are permitted to hover off the American coast, sidling in breaking the laws of the country and constituting a menace to navigation."

MIZPAH CHAPTER MEETS

The Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of Eastern Star will be with Mizpah Chapter No. 19 Saturday, June 23, and will hold an all day school of instruction beginning at 10 a. m. Box lunch will be served in the dining hall at noon. All members of O. E. S. invited.

FALL FROM ROOF OF HIGH SCHOOL FATAL

William T. Kerr Drops Three Stories When His Hold Slips

CARPENTER DIES OF HIS INJURIES

Members Of Masonic Order Will Attend Services Friday

William T. Kerr, the carpenter who fell from the top of the new Albany high school building while engaged in work on the roof passed away last night at the Benevolent hospital officials of that institution announced this morning.

At the time of his death Mr. Kerr was surrounded by friends and his physician and died peacefully, it was stated. Some surprise was expressed at the death of Mr. Kerr, it being felt that since he was able to withstand the shock of the fall for over a day he would be able to regain his strength. On the other hand many knowing of the extreme distance he fell and that he was over 60 years of age were never able to see hope for his recovery.

Members of the Masonic lodge at Austinville of which organization the deceased was an honored member, announced today funeral services would be held there at the Baptist church Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. J. H. Mill will conduct services. Interment will be in the city cemetery. The Mason and Odd Fellows will have charge of services at the grave.

All Masons have been invited to attend the funeral and burial. The members of the order will meet at the Austinville hall at 2:15.

Mr. Kerr is survived by his wife and one sister, Miss M. E. Kerr of Memphis.

Mr. Kerr's fatal fall was due to his becoming over balanced while removing a temporary timber from the roof sheeting on the high school building, three stories high.

Fellow workmen state he pitched over backwards and that when he struck iron piping on the ground he was in a sitting position.

The left ankle was broken and several ugly wounds were made about the head, two wounds requiring stitches. Internal injuries are said to have been the immediate cause of death.

Couple Married In Matlock Store

A suggestion of friends at Matlock's Store this morning led to a happy marriage there this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The contracting parties were Miss Julia Webb, and James M. Brand, both of Lacy Springs. The officiating minister was Dr. W. P. Reeves, pastor of the Central Baptist church.

The suggestion referred to was that the young couple marry for they had decided that important question some time ago and they had come to the Twin Cities to secure a marriage license, and to purchase a number of articles of clothing, mostly for the bride-to-be.

While the clothing was being bought the happy secret of the proposed marriage was confided to Mr. Matlock. Mr. Matlock suggested his store as a proper place and the young people readily agreed with the merchant. It was only a matter of moments to call Dr. Reeves and he said the fateful words that made two hearts glad and two persons one until death shall separate them.

A large company of interested spectators witnessed the marriage.

COTTON MARKET

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 21.—Cotton futures opened steady, July 26.65; October 24.35; December 23.90; January 23.65; March 23.65.

When Evelyn Stalker and "Babe" Hunter, a former close friend, living in Detroit, Michigan, quarrelled over Jack Fiddler, a former soldier, Miss Stalker summoned "Babe" to a lonely spot in the city and stabbed him to death on the sidewalk. The woman slayer expressed no remorse for her deed.

MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN REVIVAL

The Ninth Street revival now in progress at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in South Albany, which began Sunday is now getting under way with increasing interest, stated the pastor Rev. A. L. Mathison this morning.

Rev. Mathison stated that each day he and his evangelist Rev. Roy Hewlett of Blocton, would hold open meetings at the Louisville & Nashville shop gates, and that not only the shopmen, but all the people in the community were invited to these meetings. At present the shop meetings are being held at the noon hour.

Rev. Mathison stated that the Baptist and Presbyterian pastors of South Albany were co-operating in the meeting at his church and that their presence at the meetings was appreciated by all.

Rev. Hewlett preached the sermon last night basing his discourse on the Bible account of the swallowing of Jonah by a "great fish." The speaker said unlearned people on Bible matters often spoke as if it had been a whale that had swallowed Jonah, but the scripture account stated that "God prepared a great fish" for that purpose.

Rev. Hewlett added that personally he accepted the Bible account of Jonah's unusual experiences, but for "lesson purposes" it made no difference "whether Jonah swallowed the whale or whether the latter swallowed Jonah"—that the wonderful story was to illustrate the world wide character of God's kingdom, of His universal appeal to all men, whether in Ninivah or in Albany and Decatur, and that a similar punishment to that Jonah received would come to all who refused to help spread the gospel to the uttermost parts of the world.

Rev. Hewlett produced a profound impression and many saw in a new light what their religious responsibilities are from a Scriptural standpoint. The musical program, rendered before and after the sermon, was interesting and inspiring. No call for non-Christians has as yet been made, stated Rev. Mathison, but that soon full opportunity would be given to all who desired to accept Christ.

Ten Persons Burn In Tenement Fire

(Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, June 21.—Ten persons, nine of them negroes and one an unidentified white man, were burned to death and about 30 negroes injured when fire swept through a three-story tenement occupied by nearly 160 tenants early today.

Firemen suspected that the fire may have started from a moonshine still in the basement.

FARM PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN SOLONS

(Associated Press.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 22.—A comprehensive legislative program is expected to be completed this week by members of the agricultural committee in recess session here.

The committee, aided by various agricultural officials, including J. M. Moore, commissioner of agriculture; Edward O'Neal, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Association and others, has been at work preparing a program since the adjournment of the legislature in February.

Aid for the secondary agricultural schools, improvement of the state agricultural and mechanical college, better drainage and marketing for the farmer, cooperative marketing and other measures are expected to be among the things recommended for Alabama agricultural progress when the legislature convenes.

The trip made by the committee through Mississippi, Tennessee, Kansas, Missouri and Illinois is expected to afford several items for Alabama legislators to consider.

It was at the time the committee returned from the tour that Commissioner J. M. Moore expressed himself as favoring a more universal manner of providing seed for Alabama farmers that are of high quality and recommended by the state, instead of adulterated seeds that he said were being sold in many states where laws do not regulate the situation.

The committee is expected to continue work through the present week, although nothing official will be forthcoming from members before the legislature actually gets under way on July 10.

2 MORE BROKERS ARE DISCIPLINED

(Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 21.—The first development in Wall street today was the suspension for a year by the New York curb market of one of its members and the expulsion of another.

Benjamin Alexander was the member expelled. A. B. Morley of A. B. Morley & Co., was suspended.

Alexander was expelled for "an act inconsistent with the curb principles of trade."

Morley was suspended for "an act detrimental to the best interests of the exchange."

Alexander was connected with the house of J. Schneek.

Tuskegee White People Protest Against Proposed Plan

HINES ANNOUNCES METHOD TAKEN

Progress Slow Bureau Chief Tells Harding In Letter Today

(Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 21.—Director Frank Hines, of the veterans' bureau, hopes in the very near future to be able to advise President Harding that the bureau hospital at Tuskegee, Ala., "has been completely manned by colored personnel," he informed President Harding in a letter made public at the White House today.

Already a complete corps of negro nurses has been obtained, Director Hines added. Most of these have arrived at the hospital and the medical division of the bureau is now studying the papers of doctors recommended for positions there.

It was added that those who are being put in responsible positions are being interviewed.

Director Hines' letter to the president said:

"Knowing your interest in the matter of obtaining colored personnel for the hospital at Tuskegee, I feel sure that you will be glad to learn that through the efforts of the Tuskegee colored medical association and the civil service commission, we have been able to obtain practically sufficient colored personnel to man Tuskegee. At the present time a complete corps of colored nurses has been obtained, most of them having arrived at the hospital.

"The medical division of this office is going over carefully the papers of doctors recommended for positions there and we are interviewing those who will be put in responsible positions, so I hope in the very near future to be able to advise you that the hospital has been completely manned by colored personnel.

"We have, necessarily, had to progress slowly in the matter because I have always felt it was your desire that we, under no circumstances, put colored personnel on duty there who did not have the professional attainments to thoroughly handle the work, feeling that the colored people desire, as we do, that the disabled colored veterans receive treatment equal to that of any of their comrades.

"I am giving you this information today because I have a feeling that a certain elements prompted by a desire to obtain positions for certain individuals that are not entirely qualified, are attempting to belod the issue by the publication of statements that it is got the intention of the bureau to man the hospital by complete colored personnel and I desire to reassure you that your wishes in this regard will be carried out implicitly."

TUSKEGEE, Ala., June 21.—The government would be "breaking" its promise and faith with the people if a complete negro personnel is sent here to man the new veterans hospital, State Senator Powell today declared.

Senator Powell was a member of a committee of Tuskegee white citizens which went to Washington recently to protest against manning the hospital with a full personnel of negroes.

He said Tuskegee citizens were promised by the treasury department when the matter of building the hospital at Tuskegee was first mentioned that only white officers and physicians would be employed. He declared this statement was on file as a part of the record in connection with erection of the hospital.

WE FAVOR ACCEPTANCE OF HENRY FORD'S BID FOR MUSCLE SHOALS.

THE GOVERNOR WOULD MAKE A GOOD PRESS AGENT.

The "Alabama Traveler," the official organ of the T. P. A. in Alabama has rendered quite a service to the reading public in reproducing some excerpts from the recent address of Governor W. W. Brandon delivered in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce of Birmingham. Governor Brandon was speaking at the recent convention held in Birmingham to make plans for a nationwide advertising campaign which is to set forth the advantages and resources of the state.

In the June 16 issue of the "Traveler" Governor Brandon says:

"Alabama's the best state. We know it. Other people do not know that fact. If they did they would come. Let's tell them the truth, all the truth."

"I believe in giving first choice to home supplies, people as well as products."

"Put up the bars and exclude undesirable aliens. Provide ways and means for any American who will work to get a home of his own."

"Look into the eyes of a good woman. Buy a home you can pay for. Do not take her to a flat to live. Do not expect to let her live in an automobile. Start something. I believe in the home grown increase of population as well as other products."

Governor Brandon's boost of north Alabama is notable.

"On our Northern boundary is the Valley of the Tennessee, as fertile as the named Valley of the Nile, or any other rich landed valleys. Through it sweeps the Tennessee River and on its bosom will be generated tremendous Hydro-Electric current. That valley is even now dotted with thriving towns and cities, sending out invitations for more of human beings to come and share and prosper. On our Western boundary is the tumultuous Warrior River that with its many locks and dams will generate more power. Along its banks is the richest and greatest bituminous coal field and its hills and valleys have virgin forests of timber. On our East boundary is the Coosa River and its tributaries that even now has made Alabama famous for its boundless supply of Hydro-electricity sold at the lowest commercial price. On our Southern boundary is the Ocean. At Mobile will be built a seaport second to none in the greatest of countries. Those arms of the Sea are great Rivers stretched through the State, giving Alabama more miles of navigable streams than any other state has. They will fetch and carry barter and trade to supply a waiting world ready to buy our supplies. Advertise those facts and when they are well known Alabama will be on to its right place as the greatest of Industrial States."

"Within the confines of our State, Nature has placed as much, if not more, potential wealth than can be found in any given compact body of equal square miles, elsewhere on Earth. Advertise that fact to waiting people who are not content where they are."

The Governors well known belief in kind words is expressed as follows:

"Kind words and kind deeds, helping the other fellow and accepting his help, built this Republic. Remember that."

SPEAKING ABOUT DUTY WITH REFERENCE TO FRANCE AND GERMANY.

The question is now up for decision as to what France means by demanding that the Germans cease "passing resistance." If the same question was asked as regards an irate parent who demanded that son quit kicking daddy before fond parent would quit licking son, it would be easy of answer. Every body would say that son was subject to father and should "behave" before a termination of the whipping would be considered.

Most people think in the back of their heads, that Germany should relinquish her "passive resistance" policy in the Ruhr, and leave it up to France as to the next move.

And the same people will say that it would have been best to have never argued with Germany, but to have kept the allied armies in motion until they reached Berlin near the close of 1918.

But fine spun theories as to what ought to have been done, and as to what should be done, are generally valueless in the kind of world we live in.

Germany must be dealt with as she is; and France must keep that in mind. If the Germans are willing to pay large enough annual installments of money, and give guarantees that are reliable, that the sum total of an adequate indemnity will be finally paid, France should let up in her present policy in the Ruhr, regardless of whether Germany promises on her knees to be good or not.

It is hard to see where Germany can be her best, with the running sore of the Ruhr situation still open, so to speak, and it will take Germany at her best, for that country to ever be able to pay France as large an indemnity as France should have.

It is said that some French leaders demand that France hold the Ruhr valley until Germany has paid every cent demanded of her by France. Such a policy will hardly work. It is too much like the ancient method said to have once prevailed between debtor and creditor, where the latter put the former in jail until he was paid the uttermost farthing. How can a man pay debts who is in jail. And how can a nation pay a great war indemnity when the most productive part of its domain is held by a foreign nation.

A bad situation exists between Germany the debtor nation and France the creditor nation, and it is a situation that will not soon clear up unless more faith and more good will is established between the people of the two nations.

It is the duty of the great nations of the world to seek by all fair means to bring about an understanding and an agreement between France and Germany.

BRITISH TRADE UNIONS NOW FACE HARD TIMES

LONDON, June 22.—Trade Unionism in Great Britain is passing through anxious times. The membership during the last two years has decreased more than 1,500,000 and the accumulated funds, which had reached nearly $300,000,000 have been exhausted by the heavy drain of unemployment benefits.

The general council of the Trade Union Congress is planning a "Back to the Union" campaign in an endeavor to make up the loss in membership. The statement of the council is that there are 15,500,000 wage earners in Great Britain, of whom only 6,500,000 are members of Trade Unions.

WINIFRED BLACK WRITES ABOUT A Mysterious Paragon

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

SHE'S a duchess or a countess or a princess of the blood.

She's beautiful and she's clever, and you can see that she has been used to the very best society.

She has tact, courtesy, wit, good-humor, grace, charm, and she is very highly educated.

She speaks three languages thoroughly and reads five.

She knows all the newest books and she's read all the oldest ones. She plays the piano fairly well, and she can hum every one of the great operas from the overture to the finale and not think a thing of it.

She sketches rather well, too, and dabbles in water-colors. Also she embroiders. And as a hostess she is simply a charmer.

He Is Simply Satisfied

And she is a working housekeeper for a man I know in the middle West, and the man I know is so pleased about it!

He tells all his friends what a wonder he has found, and all his friends are wondering, too.

Who is this woman?

Where did she come from?

Why, with all her accomplishments, is she willing to bury herself in a small town and wash dishes and sweep and put children to bed and get their lunches ready for school and mend stockings and darn socks—for $60 a month?

But the man doesn't wonder at all—he thinks it's quite natural.

No, he's not in love with the woman, and the woman isn't in the least in love with him.

But, he says, he is offering her a home and the privileges of a home, and this, he declares, is all that she or any other normal woman ever really wants.

And when you tell him that you think there's something queer about it, he stares and is rather offended.

He hopes that you haven't the modern ideas—if you have, he'd thank you not to mention them to his 13-year-old daughter.

He doesn't want her to think that there is anything in the world outside the four walls of what he is pleased to call a home.

Poor man! I wonder what he'll do when daughter suddenly rises up and tells him that she wants a home all right, but she intends to have it her own home, and not some one else's—not even his.

How Long Will It Last?

As for me and my suspicious nature, I will give the paragon about two months more to get back to her own level.

Either she is a woman in great sorrow, who is trying to find relief and forgetfulness in hard work and absolute change of surroundings, or she is some one who has reasons of her own for disappearing.

Perfectly good reasons, perhaps—but reasons.

Isn't it interesting to think that there is a man left in the world today who really believes that he is offering a cultivated, intelligent, brilliant and beautiful woman a great opportunity when he pays her $60 a month to cook and sew and mend and sweep in the household of a stranger?

In her own home—yes. Any woman of character will do anything that is necessary to hold her own home together—but water doesn't run up hill, does it? And doubtless there are stars in the sky in the daytime—but, somehow, we can't see them and we don't think much about them.

What do you suppose the mystery is, and what would you give to be as trusting and as pleased with your own situation in life and everything about it as this man in this particular case?

SAFE IN THE ARMS OF JESUS

Just as the bright, beautiful morning was dawning on June 12, 1923, the angel of death came to our happy home and took from us our darling Ruth that we loved so well. She was one of the sweetest and purest characters that earth had ever owned; so quiet, gentle and loving to every one she met.

The Lord only permitted her to remain in this sinful world seven and a half short years to scatter sunshine and to bring joy to our hearts.

Her little chair is vacant and our hearts are torn and bleeding. Yet we feel that now God knows best and our loss is her gain, and with an eye of faith we can look up through our tears and see our darling a bright shining angel safe in the arms of Jesus.

In heaven around the throne;
Of him who doeth all things right.
She lives in an angel's home
Far from her loved one's sight;
But in memory dear and sweet,
We can see that bright, happy face of thine.

And it will ever continue to be
A sweet memory in the march of time.
One who loved her.

With the second week of fine workable weather since the rains ceased, the farmers are making good use of the time and planting is practically show marked improvement in this planters from different sections.

A fine rain came Sunday afternoon at a point about 3 miles out on the East pike, and while not badly need-

Negro Wit.

The janitor's little boy, very black, was nicknamed "Midnight" by his white friends. He didn't mind them calling him that, but when one day one of his own race exclaimed "Hello, Midnight!" he retorted indignantly:
"You're jes' about quarter to twelve y' self."—Boston Transcript.

larly rich.

What He Was Doing.

According to the Charleston News and Courier, the old story has been revived of the tall Kenuckian who hurt the feelings of a friend about half as tall. The smaller man began pounding the big fellow in the stomach. The big man looked down and said: "What are you doing there?"
The furious small man exclaimed:
"I'm fighting, sah, by gad, sah!"

Only One Price for Success.

There is but one method of success, and that is hard labor; and a man who will not pay that price for distinction, will better at once dedicate himself to the pursuit of the fox—

Sk skaters have the largest hearts,

the average person, recent examina-

The Size of China.

China is larger in area than the United States, Mexico and Central America. It has four times the population of all South America, almost equal the population of all of Europe and one-quarter of the population of the world. The Yangtze delta, with an area about equal to Illinois, has a population of 40,000,000, about 800 to the square mile.

"ADAM AND EVA"—PRINCESS

The Star today.

Close upon the heels of "When Knighthood Was in Flower" comes another production by Cosmopolitan Corporation with Marion Davies in the stellar role. It is "Adam and Eva," which was shown at the Princess for the first time with great success today.

Miss Davies, as Eva King, is a typical modern girl of wealth. She is driving her father frantic because of her extravagance. He hits upon the plan of installing a stern man as master of his household. Adam Smith, a foreman on one of King's South American rubber plantations, is selected for the job.

Smith effects in a novel manner a complete change in the mode of living of the family and in the end wedding bells sound for Adam and Eva.

This is really an excellent production and although a different kind of picture than "Knighthood," more than lives up to the standard set by it. The cast is excellent.

THE HIGH COST OF CHEAP MONEY

Widows and Orphans Among Chief Losers From Unsound Currency.

E. E. AGGER CITES EXPERIENCE

Speculators Rather Than Investors and Producers Win From Currency Depreciation.

The losses and costs borne by the government and the people of the United States from unsound money experiments, from colonial times down, doubtless total more than our staggering World War appropriations. It is declared by E. E. Agger, an authority on economics, in the Journal of the American Bankers' Association. "Cheap money," he says, is very costly, since frenzied finance, speculation and business disaster have invariably followed in the wake of unsound currency. He cites historical experience showing that widows and orphans were among the chief sufferers.

"New generations of adults, like children, have to learn over and over again that, when playing with fire, one runs the risk of being burned," Mr. Agger says. "Indulging currency theories constitutes such an adult playing-with-fire. A glance over our own historical experience would demonstrate this to the most ardent 'easy money' advocate, but such advocates are usually those to whom history is 'bunk'.

Soft Money Advocates Seek Profit. "Unfortunately those who are willing to kindle the kind of conflagration involved in 'soft-money' experimentation are not the only ones hurt. Indeed, they may extort an advantage for themselves. But the record is all too clear concerning the mass of people. Heavy losses, injustices, disorganized production and numerous other evils are inevitable.

"Unsound money projects impose heavy costs on the government itself. The first effect of cheap money is to raise prices. Mounting prices mean that, to meet its needs, the government must appropriate always larger sums. Again, dallying with unsound money weakens the government's credit. Prospective bond buyers become hesitant when currency depreciation is threatened, because there is danger of agitation toward the payment of government obligations in the cheaper money rather than in specie. Any such weakening of government credit means lower prices received for bonds, consequently greater burdens on the Treasury. Assuming that, in the end, sound principles triumph, the indulgences of the unsound currency days leave further costs to be met. If paper money has been issued it must be redeemed. If a government be unwilling to stoop to repudiation it must raise much more in taxes to pay for the paper money than it received at the time of issue.

The total effect of paper issues in increasing the cost of the Civil War is estimated at about $600,000,000, Mr. Agger says, continuing:

"Much more serious than the costs of unsound currency to the government are the heavy direct and indirect costs imposed upon the people. Our productive system is controlled through prices, and the upset of prices, caused by a depreciating currency, interferes with the proper harmonizing of the different lines of production. Price changes are not instantaneously or uniformly effected throughout the whole system. The result of an inflationary movement is a stimulation of speculation and over-investment in some lines, with inadequate development in other lines. The period of speculation seems a period of prosperity, but how false and unsound is such prosperity is disclosed in the stress and agony of the inevitable period of liquidation which, Nemesis-like, follows on the heels of the boom."

Wealth Unfairly Redistributed

Mr. Agger then describes "the distressing effects of an unsound money on the distribution of wealth among classes and individuals. Cheapening money through inflationary expedients is a gigantic fraud upon the creditors as against debtors. All those dependent on fixed incomes, or receiving specified sums in terms of money, are penalized when the purchasing power of money is depressed. In like manner the stockholder profits at the expense of the bondholder—a fact which implies a reward to the more speculatively inclined at the expense of the conservative."

"Advancing prices cause discontent and give rise to agitation and unrest among those whose incomes cannot promptly be adjusted to meet higher living costs. Strikes are fomented and production is curtailed. Everybody shares in these burdens. Lack of stability in money also undermines and weakens habits of thrift. A corrosion of the moral integrity of the people is inevitable. Dishonesty is stimulated and a desire to gain by speculation rather than to earn a livelihood by productive and useful labor causes a marked deterioration in popular habits and character."

old Titus' story, "Timber," Metro releases it.

Kindness in Business.

It is a great privilege to have an opportunity many times a day, in the course of your business, to do a kindness which is not to be paid for. Graciousness of demeanor is a large part of the duty of any official person who comes in contact with the world. Where a man's business is, there is the place for his religion to manifest itself.

Sharing Others' Good Luck.

The man who does not share in the success of others is bound to be a sad person. No failure can injure the man who feels that the good luck of his neighbors and friends is a joy to himself.

PRINCESS THURSDAY

A great array of talent is seen on the screen in the Reginald Barker production, "Hearts Aflame," at the Princess Theater. Fifteen important characters, each played by a seasoned artist, make the cast an exceptional one.

Anna Q. Nilsson is the center of interest in the role of Helen Foraker, a girl who battles against overwhelming odds to carry out her father's ideals of reforestation in the Michigan pine country. When the opposing factions finally set fire to her forest, of ten thousand acres in an effort to bring her to terms, she courageously drives a locomotive through a half mile of flames for powder to dynamite a ridge in the path of the fire.

Frank Keenan gives a wonderful performance as Luke Taylor, the crabbed old lumber king, who attempts to wrest the forest from the girl. Having fought every step of his way to success, he has bitter contempt for weaklings and a proportionately strong admiration for pluck. Moved by Helen's brave fight against his millions, he surrenders to her cause and assures the success of her forestry project with his financial backing.

Craig Ward, a former stage celebrity, makes his screen debut in the part of John Taylor, the McElnaire's son. His allowance cut off, he accepts his father's ultimatum of a job in the Michigan woods, where he not only makes good as a lumberman but wins the girl as well.

The comedy element of the picture is divided between Russell Simpson, John Dill, little Richard Headrick, Joan Standing and Martha Mattox. Lee Shumway has the role of Milt Goddard, Helen's loyal foreman. Richard Tucker and Stanton Hook supply most of the villainy in the picture, while Walt Whitman serves as their pawn. Ralph Cloninger and Irene Hunt are pathetic figures as the victims of a land shark's greed. Gordon Magee, as the sheriff, completes the cast.

The photoplay was produced for Louis B. Mayer. It is based on Har-

THE STUDEBAKER LIGHT-SIX TOURING CAR

A Real Achievement in Dollar-for-dollar Value

The thousands of Studebaker Light-Sixes in daily use are the best possible assurance of what may be expected next year—or several years hence—of the Light-Six you buy today.

For after all, the best way to judge a new motor car is by what it has done—how it has stood up in service—the satisfaction it has delivered.

We sincerely believe that the Light-Six Touring Car, with its improved all-steel body, is the sturdiest, handsomest, most comfortable, most dependable and economical low-priced car built.

The machining of all surfaces of the crankshaft and connecting rods, to which is largely due its practical absence of vibration, is a practice used by Studebaker exclusively on cars at this price and is found only on a few other cars whose selling prices are from three to ten times as high as the Light-Six.

The one-piece, rain-proof windshield with parking lights set in the base, is a joy to the driver—nothing to mar his view of the road ahead. Deep, fat cushions are upholstered in genuine leather. Curtains, bound on three sides by steel rods, open with the doors and provide closed car coziness in bad weather.

The most seasoned driver will find a new thrill in the smooth, quiet, steady performance of the Light-Six—and in its ease of handling, and in the way it performs in high gear at low speeds—eliminating constant gear shifting.

The name Studebaker has stood for high grade transportation, quality, value and integrity for 71 years.

Power to satisfy the most exacting owner
